NEWS RELEASE:

Aldelo Express Cloud POS for Android Tablets Now Available for Download in the Google Play Store

Merchants Save Money with Flexible POS Hardware Options that Support Traditional and Outdoor Dining Services

Aldelo Express Cloud POS is now available to Aldelo users on the Google Play Store. New and existing merchants can now download the solution and operate non-proprietary Android tablets seamlessly with iPad tablet and Android mobile handheld solutions in single and multi-store restaurant environments.

Android tablets support traditional and off-premises dining services such as curbside pickup, takeout, and outdoor patio environments for any-sized restaurants, bars, food trucks, and more. Android tablets also double as mobile staff terminals, allowing staff to accept and send orders directly to kitchen display systems (KDS) and kitchen printers from anywhere with a Wi-Fi connection.

Aldelo Express merchants select from a variety of name brand POS tablets priced under $500. Both Android and iPad tablets are purchased independently by merchants outright or via two- and three-year affordable payment plans, with zero interest. For merchants that utilize approved merchant services, the Aldelo Express POS software and support services are included.
